[March-2022]

What is Photoshop? Photoshop is a software application developed by Adobe Systems. It is a vector-based image editor, and therefore is capable of editing both raster (pixel-based) and vector (line-based) images. Adobe Photoshop uses a layer-based editing system that enables raster image creation and altering with multiple overlays that support transparency. The name "Photoshop" came about from the idea of using a photograph as a "lens" to create a new, final, virtual image. Photoshop was originally released in October 1984 as "Adobe Photoshop," and later changed to "Photoshop" in 1988. What are the different versions of Photoshop? The first version of Photoshop was released in October 1984. It was designed for Macintosh computers, but Photoshop was released for Windows computers in 1987. Photoshop 3.0, the first version that was widely available, was designed to be used with a Macintosh. New versions of Photoshop were released up to Adobe Photoshop CS6, which was released in March 2013, making it the latest version of Photoshop. Like many other software products, new versions of Photoshop are released with a new name every few years. Photoshop CS2 was released in December 1999, Photoshop CS3 in June 2004, Photoshop CS4 in January 2008, Photoshop CS5 in April 2011, and Photoshop CS6 in March 2013. Adobe Photoshop CS6 Photoshop CS6 introduced a fully integrated editing system, the Layer Compound System, which allows you to quickly and easily move and manipulate layers in your image. This allows you to create text, shapes, and other items directly within a layer, rather than having to create them in a separate window.

Photoshop CS6 also features New OS X Spaces, which expand areas on the screen to show related content. The new Camera RAW application offers a new, more intuitive RAW file format, along with a bridge for importing those RAW images, to make editing more seamless. New features in Photoshop CS6 include: Photoshop The Adobe Photoshop CS6 Guide. The Adobe Photoshop CS6 User Guide. A new tool box, Optimize Slideshow. Revamped display panel, improves speed and responsiveness and shows more content at one time, and lets you see content at a larger size. New features in Adobe Photoshop

Q: Is the intersection $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$
diffeomorphic to  $\mathbb{R}^2$ ?
I'm having trouble with a question, can someone help me out? Is $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$
diffeomorphic to  $\mathbb{R}^2$ ?
Any hints would be greatly appreciated, thanks! A: $\mathbb{R}^2$  is the space $\mathbb{R}^2$  of all ordered pairs  $(x,y)$  of real numbers.
 $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  is the space of all ordered pairs $(x,y)$  with  $x,y \in \mathbb{R}$ .
This is a standard (and basically obvious) lemma. Let's observe that $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  is an open subspace of  $\mathbb{R}^2$  whose elements are pairs whose last coordinates are zero. This allows us to prove that  $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  is open in  $\mathbb{R}^2$ ; but it also proves that the topology induced from  $\mathbb{R}^2$  on  $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  is the subspace topology induced from the topology on  $\mathbb{R}^2$ ; which we know is the product topology. But any subspace of the product topology has to be a product topology as well; and in particular, the product topology on  $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  coincides with the usual topology, whose elements are all sets of the form  $(a,b) \times (c,d)$ . This is the characterization of the product topology. In particular, the space  $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  is diffeomorphic to  $\mathbb{R}^2$ .

A: The second question "Is  $\mathbb{R} \times \mathbb{R}$  diffeomorphic to  $\mathbb{R}^2$ " has a negative answer: take for  $x$  the coordinate in the second variable and for  $y$  the coordinate in the

Tuesday 13: Carmi & Sneha. Carmi and Sneha were best friends, since college days. This was in Bombay. When Sneha went for her graduation, she asked her friend to join her but Carmi was busy at that time. Now Sneha studied upto 3rd year while Carmi was in her 4th year and also of the same college. So they parted and Sneha went to some other college while Carmi got a part time job at a supermarket as a grocery store clerk. Carmi got an assistant director's job and she had a dream of opening her own grocery store (like a Patil Bakery). That day she spoke to her boss and said she wanted to start her own grocery store, will you give me one year's time to do that? Her boss said to her that he did not trust her, but he gave her this one year. Carmi started working full time. Her boss always gave her compliments of Carmi's talent for cooking and she did get a lot of attention for it. Carmi made many mistakes in her business. Like she said she would go and buy bread only after paying off all the outstanding bills of her grocery store. In this way, her business became locked. She could not even give any savings to Sneha. However Carmi was very strong willed. Sometimes she felt that her boss was very harsh with her. She also had troubles buying breads. Once at a party she told her boss that she will not pay for this bread and she took some of it home. The owner of the bakery came to her boss' office and complained that he has spent Rs. 1,000 on a bread for her. They got into a fight and Carmi had to give all the breads. She was so upset that she forgot about the breads she took. And she again had not enough money to buy breads. Things had gone bad for her. Sneha was now married. Carmi knew only one person in her life. She came home from her workplace with a bag of bread. She saw all the breads on her table and she was very upset. Her dream was still stuck on her mind. She could not forget it for a moment. She told her family not to eat the breads. Then a sudden thought struck her, that she would go to BMT alone. So she sold her house and left for Bombay.

---

---
